A house in the Country

Web ID: JOH

A thoughtfully built weathertex and colorbond home, reflecting the best of past eras in style and grandeur. Spacious timber verandahs on all sides, leading into the polished Cypress pine floors with Tasmanian Myrtle dado boards, which radiate the warmth of timber. Modern electric kitchen and bathroom with large wood heater add the modern day touch. Three good sized bedrooms with higher ceilings give a great feeling of space. This property is situated on a large gently sloping block, with a good sized dam as a feature and practical water supply for all outdoor plants and citrus orchard.

Workshop and two bay shed make this home the ideal residence for the weekend or permanent.
